Brief Biography

I completed my doctorate in Library and Information Science from the Charles de Gaulle University – Lille 3, France, with the highest distinction in 2012. I have more than 26 years of professional, teaching and administrative experience at various universities and academic institutions across different countries such as France, Pakistan, and Saudi Arabia. I am actively engaged in research and have produced more than 85 research papers. I have also presented 17 research papers at various national and international conferences. I am an HEC (Higher Education Commission of Pakistan) approved Ph.D. supervisor and am actively involved in teaching as well as supervising postgraduate students. I have provided training in various research tools such as NVIVO, SPSS, Endnote, Mendeley, Zotero, RefWorks Turnitin, Biblioshiny, VOSViewer, and have conducted more than 650 workshops and training sessions as a resource person in Pakistan and abroad. Furthermore, I have provided onsite and online training related to 35 training modules to more than 1500 university faculty members and researchers. I am also the recipient of the Info-share award from ASIST, USA.

Education

Qualification:	Ph.D. in Library and Information Science (With the highest distinction)
